

Here is a comprehensive list of limiting beliefs that you may have as a new coach in this industry as you try to launch yourself

Internal Beliefs (Self-Doubt and Fear)

- 1 "I'm not good enough to coach others."
- 2 "I don't have enough experience to make an impact."
- 3 "People won't take me seriously."
- 4 "I need to be perfect before I can start."
- 5 "I don't know enough to add value."
- 6 "I'm too young/old to be a coach."
- 7 "What if I fail?"
- 8 "I'm not confident enough to charge for my services."
- 9 "I need more certifications before I launch."
- 10 "I'll never be as good as (another coach they admire)."

External Beliefs (Market and Audience)

- 11 "The coaching industry is oversaturated."
- 12 "There's no market for my niche."
- 13 "Nobody will pay for coaching in my area."
- 14 "People only want famous or established coaches."
- 15 "I don't have a unique selling point."
- 16 "Clients will question my qualifications."
- 17 "I don't have enough testimonials to attract clients."

Money-Related Beliefs

- 18 "I can't make good money as a coach."
- 19 "People won't pay me what I'm worth."
- 20 "I should offer free sessions until I feel more confident."
- 21 "Investing in my own marketing is risky or wasteful."
- 22 "Only coaches with big teams and resources make money."
- 23 "I need to have a steady income first, then I can coach."

Tech and Marketing Beliefs

- 24 "I'm not good at technology or social media."
- 25 "Marketing feels salesy and fake."
- 26 "I don't know how to build an online presence."
- 27 "I'll need expensive tools and software to start."
- 28 "I need a perfect website before I can launch."
- 29 "I don't know how to attract the right audience."
- 30 "I'm too introverted to promote myself."

Time and Effort Beliefs

- 31 "I don't have enough time to dedicate to coaching."
- 32 "It takes years to build a successful coaching business."
- 33 "Balancing my life and business will be impossible."
- 34 "I need to have everything figured out before I start."
- 35 "I need to quit my job before I can focus on coaching."

Relational Beliefs

- 36 "My friends and family won't support me."
- 37 "I'll lose my current job security and stability."
- 38 "What if people I know judge me for becoming a coach?"
- 39 "My current network isn't big enough to get clients."
- 40 "No one in my social circle will understand what I do."

Result-Oriented Beliefs

- 41 "What if my clients don't get results?"
- 42 "What if I can't retain clients long-term?"
- 43 "I can't guarantee transformations, so why would anyone hire me?"
- 44 "One bad review will ruin my reputation."
- 45 "Success as a coach is just luck, not skill."

Worth & Deservingness Beliefs

- 46 "I'm not worthy of being a coach."
- 47 "Who am I to guide others when my life isn't perfect?"
- 48 "I don't deserve to charge high prices for coaching."
- 49 "People like me don't succeed in this field."
- 50 "It's selfish to want to make money doing what I love."

Spiritual or Ethical Beliefs

- 51 "Helping people shouldn't feel like a business."
- 52 "Charging money for helping others feels wrong."
- 53 "I need to focus on serving people, not on making profits."
- 54 "Marketing myself feels like bragging or being self-centered."
- 55 "If I charge too much, I won't seem humble."

Beliefs about Competition

- 56 "There are already too many successful coaches out there."
- 57 "My niche isn't unique enough to stand out."
- 58 "The big-name coaches will outshine me."
- 59 "I can't compete with people who have been doing this for years."
- 60 "My ideas aren't innovative enough to attract attention."

Beliefs about Growth & Sustainability

- 61 "I can't scale my coaching business beyond a few clients."
- 62 "Coaching is just a side hustle, not a full-time career."
- 63 "Success will demand sacrifices I'm not ready to make."
- 64 "Burnout is inevitable in this industry."
- 65 "I'll run out of clients after the first few months."

Beliefs about Visibility

- 66 "I'm too afraid to show up online or speak publicly."
- 67 "I don't know how to handle criticism or negative feedback."
- 68 "I'm not photogenic or charismatic enough for videos or social media."
- 69 "My story isn't inspiring enough to attract people."
- 70 "I don't have a personal brand yet, so I can't succeed."

Beliefs about The Unknown

- 71 "I don't even know where to begin."
- 72 "The market keeps changing, so I'll never catch up."
- 73 "There are too many unknowns to feel confident."
- 74 "It's too risky to try something new."
- 75 "I can't trust myself to figure it all out."

Breaking Through These Beliefs

Identifying these limiting beliefs is the first step. To overcome them, you can:

- 1 Replace limiting beliefs with empowering affirmations.
- 2 Work with a Big Sister for guidance.
- 3 Celebrate small wins to build confidence.
- 4 Focus on progress, not perfection.
- 5 Commit to lifelong learning and personal growth.

